Code First: Girls, Web Design Competition

You've spent 6 weeks learning how to make websites, and now it's time to put those skills to the test! Your task is to make a website of your choosing, in 1 week working in pairs.

The criteria we'll be looking at are as follows

- A visually appealing design, including:

- A contact form (for example name and email)
- Social buttons
- As many different HTML elements you can manage

- Interactive elements (like forms) on your website don't need to be functional, but should be present if they need to be for the visual aspect of the design.

- Responsive layouts
  - Viewable on phones, tablets, and computers, with appropriate changes for each.
- A live website
- Good formatting
  - Code split into the appropriate files
  - Files indented properly
- Good organisation
- Version control using git
- Sensible git commit messages

So that's it! Other than that, you can make any kind of website you want.

You can see a few examples of what previous students on your course created on our website here: http://www.codefirstgirls.org.uk/course-competition.html

If you're short on ideas, here are some to get you going…

- A personal website
- "How to" website on an area of your expertise
- A survey or poll website.

And if you're really stuck for ideas, you can try your hand on the design specification on the next page: "Sam's Bakery".

The websites will be judged by your instructors in the last session. The winning website will receive a prize (TBD), and will be featured on the Code First: Girls website!

As always, if you have any questions, don't be afraid to ask, via email, or during the session, and most importantly, have fun!

Sam's Bakery

Sam, of Sam's Sarnies fame, has decided to expand his business to all manner of baked goods, and has requested that you help him in this transition by designing a new website for him.

Sam wants a completely new design featuring...

- The testimonials from his old website (http://code61.github.io/bootstrap_exercise/)
- His updated menu
  - Strawberry Swiss Roll £1.50
  - Gingerbread Man £1.00
  - Submarine Rolls £1.00
  - Sticky Toffee Pudding £2.50
  - Lemon Tart £3.00
  - Savarin Cake £3.00
  - Minted Lamb Pasty £5.00
  - Baklava £1.00
  - Pain au Chocolat £2.00

- Social buttons.
  - Twitter
  - Facebook
  - Pinterest

- A contact form with an email address and a name field (does not have to be functional)
- Anything else you think would be good.
